

Dear Customer,

In June of this year Carlisle Interconnect Technologies acquired Micro-Coax Inc. and as a result of this, became the holders of a 50% share of Rosenberger Micro-Coax in partnership with Rosenberger GmbH. Since this announcement, a number of discussions have been held between Carlisle and Rosenberger regarding the future structure and success of the joint venture.

I am pleased to announce that Carlisle have now acquired the Rosenberger share of the joint venture and from January 1st 2017 Rosenberger Micro-Coax Ltd will commence trading as Carlisle IT, Blackburn.

Members of the Rosenberger Micro-Coax team in Blackburn will be working closely with the Carlisle Management team throughout the coming months to implement a seamless transition which will ensure continued service and support to our customers.

Furthermore, I am pleased to announce that Carlisle and Rosenberger have signed a supply agreement to ensure the Rosenberger product range currently supplied from Blackburn will continue to be supplied from this site. This agreement safeguards the future supply of connectors utilised within the Blackburn organisation meaning this acquisition will not have an impact on any of the cable, connectors or the manufacturing location of our products.

We view this change as a positive opportunity to grow and develop our business and the range of products supplied from the Blackburn facility.

We will contact you shortly with further details and look forward to your continued support in this transitional period.

If you have any questions relating to this announcement, please do not hesitate to contact myself or your RMC Business Development Manager who will be happy to answer any questions you may have,

Yours Faithfully,

Chris Harmon
Managing Director
